EQUIPMENT VALUED AT
$23,000 IS EXPECTED*Fire Truck and Ambulance To Be Put in Service At Trevoise*CONDUCT AN ELECTION

TREVOISE, Jan. 25 — Equipment valued at $23,000 is to be put in service by Trevoise Heights Fire Co. The two pieces are a $15,000 fire truck and an $8,000 ambulance.

C. A. Russell, chief of the company, informed that delivery of the truck is expected late in February. The new ambulance will be put in service Feb. 1st if sufficient funds are raised to make the $2550 first payment by that date, Russell said.

The report also disclosed the total property loss from fire in Lower Southampton township last year was less than $5000, a decrease of $2000 from the preceding year.

The report stressed the need for more volunteer ambulance drivers, particularly for the shift between one and five p. m. Volunteer nurses also are needed to supplement the present staff of 22.

TOWNSHIP FIREMEN
MAY GET RADIOS*Commissioners Expected To Approve Plan at Next Meeting*FIREMEN DEVISE PLAN

The Bristol Township Board of Commissioners, at the next meeting in February, is expected to approve installation of two-way radios on all Bristol Township fire apparatus. The system will be tied in with the Bristol Township police and the Bucks County Rescue Squad, where the central radio station for the police is now located.

A plan has been agreed upon by the fire companies of the district, along with some of the neighboring districts, to expedite response to fire calls during heavy traffic periods.

Fire Chief Fred Hibbs, Edgely Fire Co., said the plan had been agreed upon by the three fire companies in Bristol township and nine companies in the outlying area "to cover up on fire calls during the week-end bumper-to-bumper traffic."

Traffic on Route 13 is becoming increasingly heavier each week-end due to Levittown, Fairless Hills and other home building developments. This has made Route 13 and Oxford Valley-Tullytown road "impassable" and poses a serious fire threat, Hibbs said.

The plan, agreed upon by Hibbs, Chief William Smith, of the Croydon Fire Co., and Chief William Sotting, of the Newportville Fire Co., is as follows:

If a fire call is received by a company on a week-end which would necessitate the crossing of Route 13 at a time when it was clogged "bumper-to-bumper" with traffic, the call would be relayed to another company that did not have to cross Route 13 through the Bristol Township Police Radio (Bristol 6650), operated by volunteers of the Bucks County Rescue Squad.

In addition to the three Bristol township companies, others cooperating in the plan are fire companies from Bensalem township, Falls township and Morrisville borough.

BRISTOL TOWNSHIP AND TULLYTOWN
SCHOOL BOARDS DISCUSS POSSIBLE
EXTENSION OF DELHAAS JOINT BOARD*Consider Adding Grades 1 to 6 As Well As the Current Agreement for Junior High School; Dr. Charles Boehm Outlines Procedure Under Which Such a Plan Would Operate If Adopted.

An informal gathering of members of the Bristol Township and Tullytown Borough School boards at the Delhaas school on Rodgers road last night, discussed with Charles Boehm, County Superintendent of Schools, a possible extension of the present Delhaas Joint Board to include the grades 1-6, as well as the current agreement concerning Junior high school.

Boehm enumerated several changes that such a formation would require. Foremost among them was that capital outlay and maintenance would be the individual responsibility of each of the component boards. The joint board would pay all other expenses.

Under such a system Bristol Township would build all the buildings and Tullytown would pay rental on each Tullytown pupil in the school system, in proportion to the number of their students to the whole cost. Thus if Tullytown had 100 students in the system and there were 500 students all together, Tullytown would pay one-fifth of the total cost.

One of the problems that received serious discussion was that of the proportion of voting power to be allocated to each board. Boehm stated, "Within three years there will be between 30,000 and 50,000 resident in Bristol Township and only 2,000 in Tullytown. Because of this, Bristol Township should have a major portion of the voting power."

It was decided that Boehm should write out his proposals and mail a copy to each of the board members. The problem will then be discussed at the next regular meeting on Feb. 7.

Two films were shown, a new publicity chairman was appointed, and the election of a secretary was made at a meeting of Laurel Bend Parent - Teacher Association last evening in Laurel Bend school.

Mrs. Clyde Kleese, Winder Village, was elected secretary. Miss M. A. organizations in the township have the opportunity of taking advantage of this offer as a means of increasing their treasuries.

WARRING ON DOPE EVIL

Apprehension in New York city of youthful gangs of drug peddlers and addicts, which resulted from the discovery of an eight-year-old boy who was smoking marijuana, illustrates the desperate seriousness of the narcotics problem in the nation's largest city.

In his annual message, Governor Dewey reported that Attorney General Goldstein has been investigating "the dismaying growth" of narcotics addiction since last spring. This investigation has produced a comprehensive program, soon to be laid before the legislature.

Mr. Goldstein says of narcotics addiction that "it is spread by trickery, by greed, by emotional pressures, by false shame and by every missed opportunity to make acute legal and medical diagnosis. It can—and does—strike at every level of income and intelligence. Principally, and most dangerously, the infection is threatening our youth."

What makes narcotics addiction a spreading cancer is the fact that many addicts turn to peddling dope in order to finance their own needs for the stuff. They find a ready market among those who are eager for new experiences and sensations and too young to foresee the consequences of what at first they regard as a lark.

Adoption of Mr. Goldstein's program should put New York in the lead among states campaigning against dope. Already it has begun a treatment program, the next step in which will be the opening of a center for adolescent addicts.

PASSING OF A LANDMARK

Many thousands of people the country over will regret the passing of the old Breecort House at Fifth avenue and Eighth street, New York city. It is soon to be demolished, along with 10 adjacent brownstone houses on both thoroughfares, including the Mark Twain house, to make way, when building materials can be had, for "a tall ultramodern apartment building."

For many years it was "the thing" for visitors to New York to dine in its sidewalk cafe or in its cubed basement dining room who never participated in the glamorous festivities of its famous mural ballroom.

In the world's greatest city, hotels arise and vanish. The Empire State building towers on the site of the old Waldorf-Astoria.

There may be an effort to preserve the Mark Twain home, though the author of "Huckleberry Finn" lived there only four years, but it is likely to prove futile.

In the early days of this century the Breecort was a gathering place for artists and literary and theatrical figures of prominence. But the Breecort, no longer a home for overnight guests because of rigid safety regulations, and with only its dining room, sidewalk cafe and ballroom in operation, could not long have survived the economic pressure of business investment in downtown New York.

"WASHINGTON REPORT"

By FULTON LEWIS, JR.

(Copyright, 1952, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.

Rebel California Republicans who are refusing to go along with the "favorite son" presidential candidacy of the Golden State's Gov. Earl Warren think they really have a chance of beating him in his own home state.

Impartial observers give them only an outside chance. But leaders of the rebel movement claim constantly growing support among Republicans who look with something less than favor on Gov. Warren's socialistically inclined policies. Overconfidently or not, they predict a close race.

The "rebels" are basing their fight on two principal charges—one, that Warren actually is more "Fair Deal" in his program, with its socialized medicine, public housing, and other plans, than he is Republican; and second, that he wants the California delegation to the GOP National Convention pledged to him so that he can deal with other convention leaders and swings the votes as he sees fit.

Publicly identified leaders of the rebel faction are Rep. Thomas H. Werdel, a second-term member of the House whose district embraces the southern part of the famed Central Valley, and John Francis Neylan, prominent San Francisco attorney.

Werdel is the nominal head of the proposed anti-Warren slate of delegates to the National Convention. A veteran of many anti-Warren battles when he was a member of the State Legislature, Werdel has proclaimed publicly that he does not expect to receive any votes at the convention and that members of his slate would be completely free to vote there according to the dictates of their own consciences.

Werdel argues that Warren has led the California delegations to the last three Republican National Conventions, and that in so doing he has accomplished nothing but to compound successive "me-too" nominees for the Republican party who have regularly gone down to defeat.

Thus far, the Warren forces—on the surface, at least—have been pooh-poohing the rebel movement as something not worth bothering about. They may be right, but only time and the June 3 primaries will finally furnish the answer.

The rebels put on their biggest show to date just two days before the recent Republican National Committee meeting in this city, when they staged a dinner rally in the Palace Hotel here. Some 200 persons gathered to hear Werdel and Neylan castigate the Fair Deal, the Governor and "me-tooism" with equal fervor. The crowd was somewhat disappointing, but that was generally ascribed to the fact that the meeting came in the midst of the worst storm in recent California history.

Efforts of some leaders at the ensuing National Committee meeting to bring about a semblance of peace between the state's warring Republican factions were futile. Nor does it appear likely that there will be any peace until the issue is settled by GOP voters in June.

Only two top California Republicans appear to have come through unscathed by either side thus far. One is first-term Senator Richard Nixon, who got a few caustic comments from the rebels because he had signed a telegram several weeks ago urging Gov. Warren to run but who otherwise was unharmed. The other is Lieutenant Governor Goodwin J. Knight, who has been waiting patiently for several years for Warren to move into higher things so that he could accede to the governorship.

Knight so far has stayed in a political shell and avoided any sniping fire from either side. Inasmuch as Nixon and Knight both seem bound to give at least lip service to the Warren candidacy, it's somewhat of a mystery why they escaped the wrath of the rebel group. But they did, both in public addresses and in back-room conversations.

Youth Longs For Independence

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

VERY early in the child's life he begins to wish he were bigger and older. Ask him at five how old he is and he says he is going on six. At ten he is going on eleven, at twelve he is going on thirteen. As he approaches or enters his teens he is especially eager to grow up and to have others treat him as growing up. About his greatest dread is that someone might suppose that he is younger than he really is.

This powerful urge in adolescence, with its drive for independence and for freedom, is why so many parents grow prematurely gray and wrinkled. To the average youth in his early teens, his parents seem to be the biggest barrier to his independence.

For His Protection

Now we parents with so much more experience feel intensely our responsibility for maintaining some control of the youth, for limiting his independence somewhat in the interest of his physical and moral protection. In this general purpose we usually are right. But in our efforts to fulfill this purpose we tend to hamper the youth in ever so many ways not at all essential or even related directly to his physical and moral safety.

Let us consider how we parents tend to hamper his growth in independence in the way we act toward him as a person at the dinner table, about the home and elsewhere; when he shares in the family conversation, expressing his opinions, especially when they run counter to our own; how we look, move and breathe or speak to him or about him when guests are present, adult ones or those of his age. Do we make him feel comfortable then, feel he is treated as of his age, feel himself a worthy member of the family group?

Superior Attitude

Or do we in the private circles of the family go woolgathering when he speaks, treat his efforts at humor as just silly and his opinions as absurd and tell him so? Do we take a very superior attitude toward him, lord it over him, and try (unaware) to make him feel small and inferior?

When there are guests and he engages one of them in conversation, how do we feel and act? Are we fearful lest he might say the wrong thing and innocently speak a truth embarrassing to us? Are we able then for a continuous period of half a minute to sit wholly relaxed, breathe naturally and have no strange feelings creeping over our faces?

Do we, on the contrary, prove to him that we are glad and happy when he enters into the conversation and seems to feel comfortable? When we can, we win for ourselves and others a degree of immeasurable happiness. And how delightful to be a guest in the home of an adolescent boy or girl whose parents have let him or her become a gracious host or hostess.

William F. Knowland, came in for a bit more criticism than his colleague, Knowland originally went to the Senate in 1945 on an appointment by Warren to fill the unexpired term of the late Hiram Johnson. He since has been a Warren supporter, and was his floor manager at the 1948 Republican National Convention in Philadelphia. Recently, however, there have been reports that his enthusiasm for the Governor is on the wane.

Watch What Your Eyes Say!

Frame your eyes with lovely lashes, says Movie Star Dorothy Hart, who uses an eyelash curler for added glamour.

By HELEN FOLLETT

EYES are beautiful when they have sparkle and carry an expression that is soft and friendly. We smile with our eyes, we talk with them. They beckon, they rebel, they can be cold and critical. So watch what your eyes say, pretty one.

The attractiveness of the eye depends largely upon its setting. Large eyes and small ones are such by virtue of their surroundings—the formation of the lids and other conditions. It is necessary to keep these surrounding tissues firm and healthy. This can be done by anointing with a massage cream.

Massage Method

Place the first finger on the lid close to the nose, sweep outward, come back under the eye to starting point. By this means you will ward off crow's feet that are likely to come with the years. Keep your eyes in healthy condition. Don't get into the habit of squinting.

Long, black uptilted lashes form a perfect valance for the shutters of the soul windows.

RECIPES

Lamb Chops—Tart Topping

4 lamb shoulder chops, cut ¾ to 1 inch thick

3 tablespoons lard or drippings

Brown chops slowly in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Season. Top each chop with an onion slice, a lemon slice and a green pepper ring. Pour tomato juice over chops. Cover and cook in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) or simmer on top of range for 45 minutes, or until done. 4 servings.

SPEED-KILLER NO. 1

Out of 35,000 lives lost in traffic accidents in 1950, 26,700 were sacrificed on the altar of carelessness. Speed—excessive, killing speed—accounted for nearly half that number. Speed, claiming 13,300 dead and 475,000 injured victims in a single year, is the nation's Killer No. 1.

While all traffic deaths declined from 1946 through 1949, even then fatalities on the open road kept creeping up. In 1950 a deadly spurt of speed accidents claimed 3,200 more victims in rural areas than it had the year before. Last year speed deaths again mounted.

Why do drivers race so heedlessly to destruction on the highway? Hardly to save time. Scorching at 70 is an invitation to disaster. Over any distance, 50 m.p.h. takes only a few minutes longer and offers a better chance of a safe arrival.

When you start out with your family or friends, discount speed before you take off. Give yourself and others in your car an extra margin of safety by leaving earlier and holding your speed within bounds. It's your responsibility to them and to others on the road.

Remember—more than one out of every three fatal accidents is due to speed.

INNER LIGHT

When God had formed man out of the dust of the earth, He breathed into man's nostrils the breath of life, and man became a living soul. Thus God gave man the great gifts of reason, conscience, love for holiness and an immortal soul. These form the spirit of man, a candle lit by the Lord.

When Adam fell into sin, man turned against His Maker. Man's desires led him to do evil. Conscience, misinformed, drove man deeper into sin.

But this candle can be lighted again by the Holy Spirit who comes into man's heart thru the Gospel of Christ. He gives us new desires, makes our will conform to God's will. This new light searches and lights our inward parts. It shows us what is sinful and guides us into holiness. By faith in the Lord Jesus, as our Savior from sin and eternal damnation, we have a constant source of spiritual light, which will burn bright unless we dim or extinguish it by the cares and concerns of the world.

HIBERNIANS WIN OVER CORNWELLS BY SINGLE POINT

In one of the best played games this season, the Hibernians nosed out Cornwells Boys Club, 51-50, in a game which went into two extra periods. In the second overtime session, the Hibs counted seven points while the Cornwells team dunked six.

At the end of regulation time, the score was knotted at 30-30, although Cornwells missed three shots in the last 10 seconds which would have given them the triumph. Both teams scored a field goal in the first overtime quarter with Horace Saxton scoring for the Hibs and Pete Bound for Cornwells.

The Hibs took a 50-44 lead early in the second extra session but the Cornwells team kept plugging and fielders by Reggie Samero, Jack Weaver, and Bill Curran gave them six points but in between Charlie Brady was fouled and his conversion was the winning point of the game.

Outstanding in the Hibernians' victory were Horace Saxton and Brady, the diminutive shooting stars. Saxton went into the game in the final period of the regulation time and netted seven field goals for 14 points. His scoring meant the difference between victory and defeat. Brady came through with 13 points.

The winners put up a nice defense throughout the tilt, holding "Sonny" Peak to 11 points. Peak did not score a field goal after the first half and made 8 of his points in the first quarter. Curran was high scorer for the losing aggregation, rolling up 17 points. Peak missed a chance to give Cornwells the victory in the first overtime period when he was awarded a foul shot on a technical foul. The ball hit the rim but bounced on the outside for a miss.

At one stage of the game in the first half, Cornwells had a 25-23 lead on the Corson street contingent who trailed until "Bill" Burr scored a set shot to knot the count at the close of the third quarter.

The Rohm & Haas quintet increased its lead on first place in the Bristol Basketball League to a full game last night as it took the measure of the Hilltop A. C. team, 69-50, on the Goodwill Hose Company court.

The game was close in the first half but after the rest period the Maple Beach clan began to cut the cords quite frequently to rack up its large margin of victory. Score at the end of the first half was 36-31.

In the third quarter, Rohm & Haas scored 23 points with Nick Spadaccino getting 9, and Bill Butz, 8. Spadaccino ended the fracas with 13 points, with Butz getting 17. Walt Zook chipped in with 13 points.

For the Hilltop team, Don LeHuguet garnered five double digits and five fouls for 15 points, with Vic Johnson getting 10.

It was the sixth straight loss for Hilltop.

RECIPES

ADD TOPPING AND YOUR SAVORY STEW BECOMES A MEAT PIE

Good, hot and hearty describes the meat pie. And just how does a meat pie vary from the old favorite stew? A meat pie is simply a stew with a topping.

For the finest in meat pies or stews follow the same rule as for standing ribs of beef or any other roast, cook at a low temperature. That is, slowly simmer the stew rather than allow it to rapidly boil.

In preparing a meat pie, brown the meat or not as desired. Then completely cover with water. For news in your meat pies consider various seasonings. Try bay leaf, celery seed, thyme, peppercorns, chili powder or curry powder for decided flavor changes. With your choice of seasonings added, cover the utensil closely and cook slowly until tender.

Why make up your stew with the same vegetables time after time. Here's a list to consider—carrots, peas, potatoes, parsnips, onions, celery, cauliflower, rutabaga, lima beans, green beans, green pepper, Brussels sprouts. Add vegetables just long enough before the end of cooking so they will be cooked. For that flavorsome gravy that's associated with a stew, drain the liquid from the stew and thicken with two tablespoons of flour for each cup of liquid.

As for the topping that turns the stew into a meat pie, choose flaky biscuits (plain or surprise sage biscuits). More possibilities are whipped potatoes, pie crust, short-cake crust, whipped sweet potatoes and rice toppings. With topping added, place the meat pie in your oven to bake until done.

Sage Biscuits

2 cups sifted enriched flour

1 tablespoon baking powder

1/2 teaspoon salt

1 teaspoon sage

4 to 6 tablespoons lard

1/2 to 1 cup milk

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sage. Cut in lard until mixture has a fine, even crumb.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

As Korean truce talks, in the words of an Allied reporter, reached a "complete state of paralysis," the Peiping radio charged that American planes flying over a Manchuria Province had dropped seven bombs, destroying three houses and livestock.

Military strength "right now" combined with "strong" and "wise political action" to hold the "whole Pacific" was urged by Governor Dewey. Moscow should be warned, he said, that further Communist aggression in Southeast Asia would be met by "every weapon at our command."

French reinforcements were due in Tunisia, where Nationalist outbursts were described as verging on insurrection. The French Assembly, which approved, 516 to 101, having Greece and Turkey join the Nato, expressed regret that Tunisia and Morocco had not been included.

The State Department was said to have approved an American military mission to Spain to explore the possibility of air and naval bases there. Another mission is expected to go to Mexico to discuss aid under the Mutual Security Act.

Although 500 Protestant clergymen protested in Washington against diplomatic ties with the Vatican, President Truman said he would send to the Senate the nomination of a full Ambassador. The President, still cloaking his political intentions, said he would probably announce by April 28 whether he would seek re-election or run for his old seat as Senator from Missouri. He ordered tax returns opened to a Senate committee investigating Senator Taft's 1950 re-election campaign and the qualifications of Senator McCarthy of Wisconsin to be a Senator.

A House committee unanimously rejected a move to disapprove the President's plan for reorganizing the Internal Revenue Bureau. Another committee recessed without acting on a motion to investigate the Justice Department.

The Administration, seeking to avoid an "escalator clause" for profits, is including the Capehart amendment it had vehemently denounced as a feature of a new Defense Production Act soon to be introduced.

Alger Hiss moved for a new trial on the basis of "newly discovered evidence."

Vincent Massey was named Governor General of Canada, the first native in that post.

YOUNG WOMAN, TWO SMALL DAUGHTERS DIE IN BLAZING
MT. HOLLY HOUSE; HUSBAND, ANOTHER DAUGHTER SUFFER
FROM SERIOUS BURNS, SMOKE INHALATION; ONE SON SAVED

MT. HOLLY, N. J., Jan. 25 —

Flames which fanned through a double frame dwelling at 108-110 Wall street, this morning, claimed the lives of a young woman, and her two small daughters; resulted in serious burns and smoke inhalation for the woman's husband and another daughter; and treatment for shock was required for a sister of the dead woman when she sought to attempt a rescue. A son of the deceased woman was aided to safety when a neighbor placed a ladder against the rear of the burning house.

The dead are: Mrs. Florence Fenimore, her daughters Lillian, seven, and Florence, two; and the injured are Roy Fenimore and daughter, Mary, 13. The two injured were admitted to Burlington County Hospital.

According to Mt. Holly police the fire started at 5:59 this morning in the property occupied by the Fenimore family at 108 Wall street, and is believed to have been due to an over-heated oil stove. The flames quickly spread to 110 Wall street, the house occupied by Joseph Endicott and family. The Endicott family escaped to safety in the bitter cold of the early morning.

Mrs. May Braddock, a sister of Mrs. Fenimore, who resides at 106 Wall street, rushed into the Fenimore home in an attempt to help rescue her sister's family, but was dead out of the inferno by firemen. Mrs. Braddock was treated for shock.

Both houses were gutted by the flames.

A general alarm was sounded by Mt. Holly police, and all four fire companies in the community responded, six pieces of apparatus converging on the spot. Three ambulances were on the scene in short order also.

At eight o'clock firemen were still at the scene, keeping the flames from spreading to other buildings nearby.

Firemen fought the flames from every angle and were numbed by the severe cold of the early hour. Streets and fire equipment were covered with ice.

WARRING ON DOPE EVIL

Apprehension in New York city of youthful gangs of drug peddlers and addicts, which resulted from the discovery of an eight-year-old boy who was smoking marijuana, illustrates the desperate seriousness of the narcotics problem in the nation's largest city.

In his annual message, Governor Dewey reported that Attorney General Goldstein has been investigating "the dismaying growth" of narcotics addiction since last spring. This investigation has produced a comprehensive program, soon to be laid before the legislature.

Mr. Goldstein says of narcotics addiction that "it is spread by trickery, by greed, by emotional pressures, by false shame and by every missed opportunity to make acute legal and medical diagnosis. It can—and does—strike at every level of income and intelligence. Principally, and most dangerously, the infection is threatening our youth."

What makes narcotics addiction a spreading cancer is the fact that many addicts turn to peddling dope in order to finance their own needs for the stuff. They find a ready market among those who are eager for new experiences and sensations and too young to foresee the consequences of what at first they regard as a lark.

Adoption of Mr. Goldstein's program should put New York in the lead among states campaigning against dope. Already it has begun a treatment program, the next step in which will be the opening of a center for adolescent addicts.

PASSING OF A LANDMARK

Many thousands of people the country over will regret the passing of the old Brevort House at Fifth avenue and Eighth street, New York city. It is soon to be demolished, along with 10 adjacent brownstone houses on both thoroughfares, including the Mark Twain house, to make way, when building materials can be had, for "a tall ultramodern apartment building."

For many years it was "the thing" for visitors to New York to dine in its sidewalk cafe or in its cubed basement dining room who never participated in the glamorous festivities of its famous mural ballroom.

There may be an effort to preserve the Mark Twain home, though the author of "Huckleberry Finn" lived there only four years, but it is likely to prove futile.

In the early days of this century the Brevort was a gathering place for artists and literary and theatrical figures of prominence. But the Brevort, no longer a home for overnight guests because of rigid safety regulations, and with only its dining room, sidewalk cafe and ballroom in operation, could not long have survived the economic pressure of business investment in downtown New York.

DOMINICAN TRADE HAS BEST YEAR

NEW YORK—(INS)—Trade figures for 1951, released by the Dominican Republic Information Center, indicates that the year has been the most prosperous in the Republic's history. With exports for the first time at a $100,000,000 level, the Dominican trade balance for the year will be greater than ever, exceeding that of more than $40,000,000 for 1950. Exports in 1951 totaled $83,514,773 and imports $42,985,289.

AGENT LAMOUR

HOLLYWOOD—(INS)—C. B. DeMille has hired Dorothy Lamour to do a super-duper job of advance promotion for his "The Greatest Show on Earth." She'll tour the United States from coast to coast all of February beating the drum for the circus epic, which will hit the theaters in March.

So called "closet dramas" are those designed to be read, but not acted.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

EVERY housewife wants to feed her family a Sunday dinner that is nourishing and also inexpensive and attractive. For such a combination, the A & P Service for Home-Makers recommends beef-onion birds with potatoes.

Cut a one-pound round steak into four pieces and pound each piece flat. Sprinkle the tops and bottoms with one teaspoon of salt and one-eighth teaspoon of pepper, then sprinkle the tops with one-fourth teaspoon of sage. Place one medium onion on the sage coated side of each piece.

Fold the ends of the meat over the onions and fasten with skewers. Roll the meat in flour and brown in hot fat in a heavy skillet. Add one no. 2 can of tomatoes, two tablespoons of ketchup and two tablespoons of horse-radish. Cover and simmer for a half-hour. Then add eight small potatoes, cover and simmer for one hour longer.

For dessert, try an inexpensive and easy-to-make chocolate polka-dot cake.

Cream one third of a cup of shortening well and add three fourths of a cup of sugar gradually, beating until light and fluffy. Add one teaspoon of vanilla, then two eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition.

Sift in two and one-quarter cups sifted cake flour, three teaspoons of double-acting baking powder and one teaspoon of salt alternately with two thirds of a cup of milk, beating until smooth. Pour half the batter into two round eight-inch layer pans, one inch deep, and lined on the bottom with greased paper. Sprinkle with chocolate drops, pour in the remaining batter and sprinkle again with chocolate. Bake in a moderate oven at 350 degrees F. for about 30 minutes. Spread chocolate frosting between the layers and on the top and sides.

"WASHINGTON REPORT"

By FULTON LEWIS, JR.

(Copyright, 1952, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.

Rebel California Republicans who are refusing to go along with the "favorite son" presidential candidacy of the Golden State's Gov. Earl Warren think they really have a chance of beating him in his own home state.

Impartial observers give them only an outside chance. But leaders of the rebel movement claim constantly growing support among Republicans who look with something less than favor on Gov. Warren's socialistically-inclined policies. Overconfidently or not, they predict a close race.

The "rebels" are basing their fight on two principal charges—one, that Warren actually is more "Fair Deal" in his program, with its socialized medicine, public housing, and other planks, than he is Republican; and second, that he wants the California delegation to the GOP National Convention pledged to him so that he can deal with other convention leaders and swings the votes as he sees fit.

Publicly identified leaders of the rebel faction are Rep. Thomas H. Werdel, a second-term member of the House whose district embraces the southern part of the famed Central Valley, and John Francis Neylan, prominent San Francisco attorney.

Werdel is the nominal head of the proposed anti-Warren slate of delegates to the National Convention. A veteran of many anti-Warren battles when he was a member of the State Legislature, Werdel has proclaimed publicly that he does not expect to receive any votes at the convention and that members of his slate would be completely free to vote there according to the dictates of their own consciences.

Werdel argues that Warren has led the California delegations to the last three Republican National Conventions, and that in so doing he has accomplished nothing but to compound successive "me-too" nominees for the Republican party who have regularly gone down to defeat.

Thus far, the Warren forces—on the surface, at least—have been pooh-poohing the rebel movement as something not worth bothering about. They may be right, but only time and the June 3 primaries will finally furnish the answer.

The rebels put on their biggest show to date just two days before the recent Republican National Committee meeting in this city, when they staged a dinner rally in the Palace Hotel here. Some 200 persons gathered to hear Werdel and Neylan castigate the Fair Deal, the Governor and "me-tooism" with equal fervor. The crowd was somewhat disappointing, but that was generally ascribed to the fact that the meeting came in the midst of the worst storm in recent California history.

Efforts of some leaders at the ensuing National Committee meeting to bring about a semblance of peace between the state's warring Republican factions were futile. Nor does it appear likely that there will be any peace until the issue is settled by GOP voters in June.

Only two top California Republicans appear to have come through unscathed by either side thus far. One is first-term Senator Richard Nixon, who got a few caustic comments from the rebels because he had signed a telegram several weeks ago urging Gov. Warren to run but who otherwise was unhurt. The other is Lieutenant Governor Goodwin J. Knight, who has been waiting patiently for several years for Warren to move into higher things so that he could accede to the governorship.

Knight so far has stayed in a political shellhole and avoided any sniping fire from either side. Inasmuch as Nixon and Knight both seem bound to give at least lip service to the Warren candidacy, it's somewhat of a mystery why they escaped the wrath of the rebel group. But they did, both in public addresses and in back-room conversations.

Youth Longs For Independence

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

VERY early in the child's life he begins to wish he were bigger and older. Ask him at five how old he is and he says he is going on six. At ten he is going on eleven, at twelve he is going on thirteen. As he approaches or enters his teens he is especially eager to grow up and to have others treat him as growing up. About his greatest dread is that someone might suppose that he is younger than he really is.

This powerful urge in adolescence, with its drive for independence and for freedom, is why so many parents grow prematurely gray and wrinkled. To the average youth in his early teens, his parents seem to be the biggest barrier to his independence.

For His Protection

Now we parents with so much more experience feel intensely our responsibility for maintaining some control of the youth, for limiting his independence somewhat in the interest of his physical and moral protection. In this general purpose we usually are right. But in our efforts to fulfill this purpose we tend to hamper the youth in ever so many ways not at all essential or even related directly to his physical and moral safety.

Let us consider how we parents tend to hamper his growth in independence in the way we act toward him as a person at the dinner table, about the home and elsewhere; when he shares in the family conversation, expressing his opinions, especially when they run counter to our own; how we look, move and breathe or speak to him or about him when guests are present, adult ones or those of his age. Do we make him feel comfortable then, feel he is treated as of his age, feel himself a worthy member of the family group?

Superior Attitude

Or do we in the private circles of the family go woolgathering when he speaks, treat his efforts at humor as just silly and his opinions as absurd and tell him so? Do we take a very superior attitude toward him, lord it over him, and try (unaware) to make him feel small and inferior?

When there are guests and he engages one of them in conversation, how do we feel and act? Are we fearful lest he might say the wrong thing and innocently speak a truth embarrassing to us? Are we able then for a continuous period of half a minute to sit wholly relaxed, breathe naturally and have no strange feelings creeping over our faces?

Do we, on the contrary, prove to him that we are glad and happy when he enters into the conversation and seems to feel comfortable? When we can, we win for ourselves and others a degree of immeasurable happiness. And how delightful to be a guest in the home of an adolescent boy or girl whose parents have let him or her become a gracious host or hostess.

William F. Knowland, came in for a bit more criticism than his colleague, Knowland originally went to the Senate in 1945 on an appointment by Warren to fill the unexpired term of the late Hiram Johnson. He since has been a Warren supporter, and was his floor manager at the 1948 Republican National Convention in Philadelphia. Recently, however, there have been reports that his enthusiasm for the Governor is on the wane.

Watch What Your Eyes Say!

Frame your eyes with lovely lashes, says Movie Star Dorothy Hart, who uses an eyelash curler for added glamour.

By HELEN FOLLETT

EYES are beautiful when they have sparkle and carry an expression that is soft and friendly. We smile with our eyes, we talk with them. They beckon, they rebel, they can be cold and critical. So watch what your eyes say, pretty one.

The attractiveness of the eye depends largely upon its setting. Large eyes and small ones are such by virtue of their surroundings—the formation of the lids and other conditions. It is necessary to keep these surrounding tissues firm and healthy. This can be done by anointing with a massage cream.

Massage Method

Place the first finger on the lid close to the nose, sweep outward, come back under the eye to starting point. By this means you will ward off crow's feet that are likely to come with the years. Keep your eyes in healthy condition. Don't get into the habit of squinting.

Long, black upturned lashes form a perfect valance for the shutters of the soul windows.

SPEED-KILLER NO. 1

Out of 35,000 lives lost in traffic accidents in 1950, 26,700 were sacrificed on the altar of carelessness. Speed—excessive, killing speed—accounted for nearly half that number. Speed, claiming 13,300 dead and 475,000 injured victims in a single year, is the nation's Killer No. 1.

While all traffic deaths declined from 1946 through 1949, even then fatalities on the open road kept creeping up. In 1950 a deadly spurt of speed accidents claimed 3,200 more victims in rural areas than it had the year before. Last year speed deaths again mounted.

Why do drivers race so heedlessly to destruction on the highway? Hardly to save time. Scorching at 70 is an invitation to disaster. Over any distance, 50 m.p.h. takes only a few minutes longer and offers a better chance of a safe arrival.

When you start out with your family or friends, discount speed before you take off. Give yourself and others in your car an extra margin of safety by leaving earlier and holding your speed within bounds. It's your responsibility to them and to others on the road.

Remember—more than one out of every three fatal accidents is due to speed.

Driver Education Is Very Necessary

Mr. Yost said such education offers one of the most encouraging answers to the growing problem of traffic accidents. When students are given the opportunity to become safe drivers through formal courses in high schools, he declared, their chances of avoiding fatal or serious accidents are usually three times better than those of boys and girls who are not school-trained drivers.

"When parents and a community pour thousands of dollars into the education of each student, it makes sense to insist that the safe operation of a motor vehicle is one of the lessons each student learns," said Mr. Yost. "In modern America the average youngster is destined to spend much of his or her later life behind the wheel of a car and there is an even chance of becoming involved in an accident before he or she dies. Driver education is not an educational 'frill' as some uninformed persons believe. It saves lives and prevents injuries."

"If the schools in your community give driver education courses, be sure that your children enroll and thus help to safeguard their future against a tragic automobile accident. If your schools do not, find out why and demand that they do. It costs very little and its rewards are very great."

In 1951, 662,370 students completed driver education courses in American high schools, an increase of 100,000 over 1950. However, the 1951 driver training graduates comprised only about one per cent of the nation's total driving population. Driver education can make its greatest contribution to highway safety, Mr. Yost said, when all high school students receive it.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

CASSEROLE cookery comes into its own in winter. An impressive example to grace your Sunday dinner table is the tuna vegetable casserole with cheese pinwheels. The A & P Service for Homemakers recommends it as easy to prepare and palate-pleasing.

For four servings: Make two cups white sauce with three tablespoons each of margarine and flour, one cup evaporated milk and one cup liquid drained from No. 2 can of peas. Season. Add one-half of the No. 2 can of peas, two cups cooked diced potatoes and one can tuna flakes. Turn into shallow baking dish.

Prepare dough for pinwheels with two cups sifted flour, three teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon salt, one-fourth cup shortening and about one-third cup each of evaporated milk and water. Roll into rectangle about one-fourth inch thick; sprinkle with two tablespoons chopped parsley and one-half cup grated processed American cheese. Roll up lengthwise as for jelly roll and cut in eight slices about three-fourths inch thick. Arrange four pinwheels on tuna mixture. Bake in very hot oven, 450 degrees F., about 15 minutes, or until pinwheels are browned. At the same time, bake remaining pinwheels on a pie pan and serve as bread.

For a sweet follow-up, try lemon meringue pudding prepared as follows:

Use one package lemon pie filling as directed on the label for lemon pie, decreasing the water to two cups and using only one egg yolk. Pour into custard cups; top with meringue made with one egg white and two tablespoons sugar. Brown five minutes in hot oven, 400 degrees F.

There's No Need To Be Plain

What woman doesn't bless cosmetic chemists for coming up with items such as lipstick, which adds beauty to the feminine face.

By HELEN FOLLETT

IMPROVING on nature is the favorite diversion of all women. When a woman sees her hair straight and straggly, her face minus make up, she feels like praising cosmetic chemists, manufacturers of permanent waves and hair stylists to the skies.

American women are spending millions of dollars every year for cosmetic charm and attractiveness. And why shouldn't they? The results bring a feeling of pride, self-assurance and well-being. Certainly there is no virtue in looking plain when toiletries can turn the trick.

Shiny Nose

The good old powder pad puts the dull finish on a nose that otherwise would shine like a good deed in a naughty world. The rouge compact makes up for the blush that does a disappearing act as the birthdays come crowding along. That touch of coloring on the lips not only imparts an appearance of health and vitality, but has a favorable effect upon the complexion, too.

A bit of polish on the fingernails makes the hands look dressed up. The same hands may do dish washing and laundry work but that's no reason why they should look as if they did.

Many important industries exist for the purpose of making the sisters appealing to the eye. Textile mills produce beautiful fabrics with which a woman drapes her svelte anatomy. Jewels are designed to furnish her with glamorous trimmings. Materials for the perfumes she uses come from all parts of the world.

Consider the pretty shoes she wears. Very different from the horrible high button affairs that Grannie wore in her young days. Grannie also wore black cotton stockings—three for a dollar, she tells us. But now Grannie's legs are encased in nylons and she's all for them.

CURTAIN MATERIAL

NEW YORK — (INS) — A new transparent curtain material with an over-all design has been created by the silk screen process. This material permits sunlight to filter into the room during the day. At night against the opaque darkness outside, the silk screen design gives a heavy dramatic, drapery effect.

LONDON — (INS) — The Heston Community association received a hut for use as a store house but the hut cannot be put up until a site has been allocated; the site cannot be allocated until a plan of the hut has been prepared; the plan cannot be prepared until the hut is erected. The matter is still pending.

Ground Beef Dishes Pinch-Hit For Steak

Probably never in history has our friend, the meat man, passed so many pounds of hamburger or ground beef over the counter as in the last few months. As none of us can feast on porterhouse steak every night, ground beef pinch-hits in keeping our appetites satisfied for beef's incomparable flavor.

In lieu of steak, a jumbo hamburger patty served for dinner is a pretty good consolation prize. Our idea of a perfect hamburger is the one which is pan-broiled—well browned on the outside (but not hard), juicy and tender within. Here's the secret in obtaining such results:

Pan-Broiled Super Juicy Hamburgers

Season ground beef with salt and pepper (1 teaspoon salt and ½ teaspoon pepper per pound of meat). Add a little grated onion, onion juice or onion powder, if desired. Make ground beef into patties about ¾ inch thick. Heat a heavy skillet (cast iron or aluminum) until very hot, then put patties in skillet. Brown lightly, then turn and brown other side. Turn heat down low and cook until the desired doneness, turning occasionally. If any fat cooks out of the burgers, remove it from the skillet, so that the meat will be truly broiled and not fried. Ummmm, you'll love these deluxe dinner patties. Serve them with hot mushroom sauce, tomato sauce or cream sauce to which peas have been added.

Up pops ground beef in an entirely different dinner dish—meat balls cooked in tomato sauce. They're quick and easy; uncooked rice is used with the meat. Just mix meat with seasonings, make into firm balls and drop into the chili flavored tomato sauce.

Meat Balls in Tomato Sauce
1 pound ground beef
½ pound ground pork
¼ cup finely chopped onion
1½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1 egg
¾ cup water
½ cup uncooked rice

Mix meat with other ingredients and form into 16 firm balls. Brown these in a little hot fat in a skillet. In a large saucepan, bring sauce ingredients (see below) to a boil, add balls, cover, turn heat low and simmer for 1 hour. Sauce: Combine 2½ cups tomatoes (No. 2 can), 2 cups water, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons sugar, 1 teaspoon chili powder. Remove balls to a platter and keep in a warm place. Thicken sauce with a few tablespoons flour mixed to a smooth paste with a little water. Pour over balls and serve. Serves 4 to 6.

"If your family is small—two or three members—make the whole recipe and use half the balls; store the rest in the refrigerator, with sauce poured over them, for a delicious second meal. They're even more delicious the second day. Reheat in a double boiler or in a covered casserole in a 350 degree F. oven.

While we're on the subject of economy beef dishes, here's a "hot tip" for making beef stew. All of us will be doing lots of stew eating this winter, so it pays to use a little imagination in preparing these good combinations.

Use tomato juice or bouillon, or a combination of both, for cooking the beef cubes to tenderness. Then just before serving, add a little sour cream. To save pennies, substitute for the sour cream, evaporated milk to which a little vinegar or lemon juice is added. The proportion is 1 tablespoon vinegar or lemon juice to 1 cup evaporated milk. Taste the stew, add extra salt and pepper, if needed, and just a sprinkling of sugar to reduce any tartness and "bring all the flavors together."

BOAR WAR

CHAUMONT, France — (INS) — An automobile almost came out second best in an unusual duel with a wild boar near here. The boar, hit and wounded by driver M. Verde, hid in a roadside ditch and charged the car with such force at a turn in the road that he caused it to turn over. Verde climbed out unhurt and, aided by some passers-by, finished off the beast with a hammer.

Sometimes the bride's female relatives take part in the fray, notes the National Geographic Society. These customs survive from the times when men captured their brides.

CLOTHES APPEAR MUCH NEATER IF GIVEN GOOD CARE

By Frances Vannoy
(Home Economics Extension Representative)

Good clothes care equals brush, plus hanging, plus air, plus rest. Any garment, new or not, deserves the best care. It will return this care in concrete form by looking and fitting better.

A good clothesbrush is the first term of the equation. It should have soft, but firm bristles (not stiff) to remove hidden particles of dirt, revive the fabric, and lift the fibers of a pile weave. Make daily brushing of clothes a habit—both before you put them on and after you take them off.

Clothes lead a strenuous life and should have soft, comfortable hangers. The wider hangers let the garment hang in natural folds and are especially important for suits and coats.

A man's suit hanger should have a trouser bar wide enough so it won't put a crease across the leg, or should hold the trousers at the cuff. A good skirt hanger holds the skirt by the band so it hangs straight.

The third term of the equation is air. Don't take your clothes off and hang them in the closet. Hang them where there is free air circulation. This helps prolong the life of clothes and eliminates unnecessary pressing by allowing body moisture to evaporate. Sweat-

INNER LIGHT

When God had formed man out of the dust of the earth, He breathed into man's nostrils the breath of life, and man became a living soul. Thus God gave man the great gifts of reason, conscience, love for holiness and an immortal soul. These form the spirit of man, a candle lit by the Lord.

When Adam fell into sin, man turned against His Maker. Man's desires led him to do evil. Conscience, misinformed, drove man deeper into sin.

But this candle can be lighted again by the Holy Spirit who comes into man's heart thru the Gospel of Christ. He gives us new desires, makes our will conform to God's will. This new light searches and lights our inward parts. It shows us what is sinful and guides us into holiness. By faith in the Lord Jesus, as our Savior from sin and eternal damnation, we have a constant source of spiritual light, which will burn bright unless we dim or extinguish it by the cares and concerns of the world.

HIBERNIANS WIN OVER CORNWELLS BY SINGLE POINT

In one of the best played games this season, the Hibernians nosed out Cornwells Boys Club, 51-50, in a game which went into two extra periods. In the second overtime session, the Hibs counted seven points while the Cornwells team dunked six.

At the end of regulation time, the score was knotted at 30-30, although Cornwells missed three shots in the last 10 seconds which would have given them the triumph. Both teams scored a field goal in the first overtime quarter with Horace Saxton scoring for the Hibs and Pete Bound for Cornwells.

The Hibs took a 50-44 lead early in the second extra session but the Cornwells team kept plugging and fielders by Reggie Samero, Jack Weaver, and Bill Curran gave them six points but in between Charlie Brady was fouled and his conversion was the winning point of the game.

Outstanding in the Hibernians' victory were Horace Saxton and Brady, the diminutive shooting stars. Saxton went into the game in the final period of the regulation time and netted seven field goals for 14 points. His scoring meant the difference between victory and defeat. Brady came through with 13 points.

The winners put up a nice defense throughout the tilt, holding "Sax" Peak to 11 points. Peak did not score a field goal after the first half and made 8 of his points in the first quarter. Curran was high scorer for the losing aggregation, rolling up 17 points. Peak missed a chance to give Cornwells the victory in the first overtime period when he was awarded a foul shot on a technical foul. The ball hit the rim but bounded on the outside for a miss.

At one stage of the game in the first half, Cornwells had a 25-23 lead on the Corson street contingent who trailed until "Bill" Burr scored a set shot to knot the count at the close of the first quarter.

The Rohm & Haas quintet increased its lead on first place in the Bristol Basketball League to a full game last night as it took the measure of the Hilltop A. C. team, 69-50, on the Goodwill Hose Company court.

The game was close in the first half but after the rest period the Maple Beach clan began to cut the cords quite frequently to rack up its large margin of victory. Score at the end of the first half was 36-31.

In the third quarter, Rohm & Haas scored 23 points with Nick Spadaccino getting 9, and Bill Butz, 8. Spadaccino ended the fracas with 13 points, with Butz getting 17. Wait Zook chipped in with 13 points.

ADD TOPPING AND YOUR SAVORY STEW BECOMES A MEAT PIE

Good, hot and hearty describes the meat pie. And just how does a meat pie vary from the old favorite stew? A meat pie is simply a stew with a topping.

For the finest in meat pies or stews follow the same rule as for standing ribs of beef or any other roast, cook at a low temperature. That is, slowly simmer the stew rather than allow it to rapidly boil.

Reba Stagg, meat expert.

In preparing a meat pie, brown the meat or not as desired. Then completely cover with water. For news in your meat pies consider various seasonings. Try bay leaf, celery seed, thyme, peppercorns, chili powder or curry powder for decided flavor changes. With your choice of seasonings added, cover the utensil closely and cook slowly until tender.

OBSERVE TRAFFIC LAWS

You don't "put one over" on police when you violate a traffic regulation. You simply fool yourself. You throw away your own protection.

Traffic regulations are made only when experience proves the need. They are designed for your protection. Almost every accident involves a violation of a traffic rule, says the AAA driver training book, "Sportsmanlike Driving."

Don't boast that you "get away" with a violation now and then. You're just heading for a fall. Take the case of Smart-

same vegetables time after time. Here's a list to consider—carrots, peas, potatoes, parsnips, onions, celery, cauliflower, rutabaga, lima beans, green beans, green pepper, Brussels sprouts. Add vegetables just long enough before the end of cooking so they will be cooked. For that flavorful gravy that's associated with a stew, drain the liquid from the stew and thicken with two tablespoons of flour for each cup of liquid.

As for the topping that turns the stew into a meat pie, choose flaky biscuits (plain or surprise sage biscuits). More possibilities are whipped potatoes, pie crust, short-cake crust, whipped sweet potatoes and rice toppings. With topping added, place the meat pie in your oven to bake until done.

Sage Biscuits

2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon sage
4 to 6 tablespoons lard
1/2 to 1 cup milk.

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sage. Cut in lard until mixture has a fine, even crumb. Add enough milk to make a soft dough. Turn onto a lightly floured surface and knead for one-half minute. Pat or roll one-half inch thick.
